

“To connect Southlanders with nature so that people and communities are inspired to take action for themselves and for the environment”. Have fun exploring nature, to appreciate the wonder of nature for its own worth and for the health and well-being benefits nature brings to all our lives.

SCN Education Centre

Connecting People with Nature

The Programme: Through fun, hands-on activities, students will be engaged in learning more about the Southland bush, their role in the bush ecosystem, and how to apply learning to their place. NZ native plants will provide a focus for discovery learning and stimulus for discussion about environmental issues and responsibilities. Please get in touch if you are interested in visiting.
